Ida M. Cannon Award

Background

The inspiration for this most prestigious SSWLHC award, first presented in 1971, was Ida M. Cannon, who organized the first social work department in an acute care medical setting. Harriet Bartlett explained Ida Cannon's impact on the early field of social work in her 1975 article:

Award Purpose, Expectations of Nominees

This award honors a national figure in health care social work for outstanding contributions to the leadership of social work in a health care setting and to the Society for Social Work Leadership in Health Care. Candidates must be widely recognized leaders in the field of health care social work and demonstrate the qualities that made Ida Cannon successful as the first social work leader in health care.

Award Criteria

In addition to demonstrating the characteristics of candidates for all Society awards (established by the SSWLHC Board in 1981), the Ida M. Cannon recipient must be a national SSWLHC member who demonstrates:

- Capacity and ability to lead, organize, and evaluate the effective and efficient provision of social work in the health care field.
- Leadership in the practice of health care administration that exemplifies the skills, qualities, and ethics of social work.
- Ability to use knowledge and experience to influence the health care system and the external environment in order to meet the psychosocial needs of patients, families, and populations. Has shown ability to organize and transmit that knowledge and experience in a meaningful way.
- Capacity and willingness to assist/ consult with others to develop management and leadership skills in health care.
- Significant experience and success over time as a contributing member of the SSWLHC.

Winner of the Ida M. Cannon Award will receive:

- Personalized, specially engraved award presented at the Opening Banquet dinner with five minutes to accept
- One (1) complimentary guest ticket to the Opening Reception
- Annual Meeting Conference Registration fee will be waived
- Bulletin board at the conference

Eleanor Clark Award For Innovative Programs in Patient Care

Background

The Eleanor Clark Award was established in 1985 as a fitting way to honor the memory of SSWLHC leader Eleanor Clark. She served as the 13th president of the SSWLHC in 1978, and received the Ida M Cannon Award in 1979.

Eleanor's legacy includes nearly 30 years with Boston's Massachusetts General Hospital, serving as the Director of the social work department from 1964 to 1984. At that time, she was promoted to associate general director of the hospital. When she died later that year, Eleanor was actively working on the development of innovative patient care programs. Her last major project was the MGH Coordinator Care Program. Funded by Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, the project enhanced patients' abilities to return to their communities by ensuring the provision of services necessary for them to remain in their homes following discharge.

Award Purpose, Expectations of Nominees

This award honors an individual or team for the development, implementation and evaluation of a clinical or social action program that emulates Eleanor Clark's spirit of discovery and innovation. In addition, the award seeks to promote the creative and valuable new programs throughout the health care field.

Award Criteria

In addition to demonstrating the characteristics of candidates for all Society awards (established by the SSWLHC Board in 1981), The Eleanor Clark Award recipient must be an individual who developed and successfully implemented an innovative clinical or social action focused program. The program's merits and achievements are evaluated by all of the following:

- Fulfills an unmet need for a specific population
- Demonstrates sound conceptualization and program design
- Successful program implementation
- Demonstration of the program's effectiveness

Winner of the Eleanor Clark Award will receive:

- Personalized, specially engraved award presented at the Opening Banquet dinner with two minutes to accept
- Annual Meeting Conference Registration fee will be waived
- Bulletin board at the conference

Joan Upshaw Award

Promoting the Entrepreneurial Spirit of Advocacy and Inclusiveness in Social Work

Background

The Joan Upshaw Award was established in 2014 as a fitting way to honor the memory of SSWLHC leader Joan K. Upshaw. Joan was a social work leader in health care, a longtime member of the Society and a pioneer in social work enterprise. This award honors the memory of Joan's entrepreneurial spirit.

In 1988, Joan founded her own social work company, first known as Joan Upshaw & Associates, a clinical social work agency, which later became Social Work p.r.n. As the Founder and President of Social Work p.r.n., Joan pioneered the field of social work staffing. Her entrepreneurial drive built Social Work p.r.n. as a nationwide company.

Joan mentored so many social workers throughout her career and was a lifetime member of the Society for Social Work Leadership in Health Care.

Award Purpose, Expectations of Nominees

This award honors an individual who demonstrates the application of entrepreneurship or intrapreneurship principles in their role as a formal or informal leader in social work in health care, including identifying and starting new ventures, increasing the efficacy and efficiency of social work interventions, generating new social work products and services and advocating for the profession of social work.

Award Criteria

In addition to demonstrating the characteristics of candidates for all Society awards (established by the SSWLHC Board in 1981) an individual must demonstrate a commitment to diversity in their role as a leader in social work in health care, including strengthening efforts targeted at increasing diversity within social work in health care and employing practice interventions that promote cultural humility. The individual must demonstrate the following characteristics:

- A commitment to promoting and advocating for social work in their role as a formal or informal leader in social work in health care, including growing practice opportunities for social workers
- Enhance the public image of social work, and increase access to social work services for vulnerable populations
- Demonstrate a mentorship for emerging social work leaders in health care
- Offer opportunities for growth and development for social workers in their role as formal or informal leader in social work in health care.

Winner of the Joan Upshaw Award will receive:

- Personalized, specially engraved award presented at the morning plenary session with two minutes to accept
- $300 award check
- Bulletin board at the conference
